Laramie County Community College District (the "District") proposes to renovate and expand aging arts education, recreation and athletics space, and construct new student housing on the college campus. The District has determined the improvements are necessary to extend the useful life of existing facilities, improve energy efficiency, improve accessibility for persons with disabilities, address a lack of on-campus student housing, provide event/assembly space, strengthen education and workforce training programming, promote fitness and wellness, and enhance student recruitment and retention.

To pay for a portion of the costs associated with this construction, the District requests the authority to issue general obligation bonds in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed $29,496,000 bearing a maximum rate or rates of interest not to exceed 4.0% per annum and to mature within 15.5 years of their respective dates. The bonds would be payable from ad valorem property taxes levied against all taxable property in the District in amounts sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on the bonds in each year, and the bonds would be sold on such terms and conditions as the District may determine. The tax will expire when the bonds have been fully paid.

Shall the District be authorized to issue such bonds?
